Writing Guide. Reporting is an inevitable part of our careers as military members. Documents such as officer performance reports (OPR), enlisted performance reports (EPR), and promotion recommendation forms (PRF) are used in promotion boards, professional military education (PME) selections, selective early retirement boards (SERB), reductions in force (RIF), command and special duty selections, and courts martial.

- Be honest on the report -- you owe it to the member and to the Air Force
- Use action-oriented, hard-hitting impact statements
- Get to the point -- don't beat around the bush
- Quantify results -- tell the world that the member saved $100K or cut cycle time 20%
- Fill up the entire form -- white space is a good way to send a bad message
- Stay within your scope -- don't make sweeping statements you can't personally verify such as "the best personnel technician ever" or "Top 3
