Boarding School Seasons: American Indian Families, 1900 ...

Boarding School Seasons is about the boarding school program created in the U.S. the early 1900s in order to assimilate Native American Indians into white society. The book was repetitive in parts, but I was a novice to the topic and therefore didn't mind it too much; some of the repetition served as good reinforcement of the concepts.

In Boarding School Seasons: American Indian Families, 1900-1940, Child skillfully uses primary documents, personal letters, and school newspapers to unveil the important stories of Ojibwe children who attended the Haskell Institute in Kansas and the Flandreau School in South Dakota. The historical context in which the Ojibwe lived is vividly captured in actual letters and documents from the schools and the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA).
