Zukertort is the name of a set-up in which White starts with 1.d4 but then does not continue with c4 and does not develop his bishop on c1.

Instead, White continues with Nf3, e3, Bd3 and Nbd2. If White now plays c3 we reach the

As Williams himself explained in his 'Simon Says' show, the DVD would have been better titled as Colle-Zukertort, because Williams, in order to give more of an attacking repertoire, focuses on the move b3 which was played by Zukertort quite some years before Colle and Koltanowski.
