Dialogue journals offer a written record of the discussions, which help keep the conversations focused and serve as a reference at a later time. Incorporating guided conversation and discussion into the classroom helps students develop a deeper understanding of the topics and materials being taught.

Dialogue journals give kids of all ages an opportunity to get that bit of personal attention from their teacher through the art of written communication. I gave up dialogue journals one year because there was so much other stuff to do...that was about 15 years ago...still remember it and still regret it.

The use of dialogue journals as a classroom practice was first documented in the early 1980s, with an in-depth study of its use in a sixth grade classroom in Los Angeles. The teacher, Leslee Reed, wrote daily throughout the school year with each of her students in a dialogue journal (a small notebook) to promote personalized, ongoing, supportive communication.
