Innovation And Curriculum Development

Curriculum innovation is what happens in schools when policy, research and practice are seen as a triangular framework for reconsidering and renewing curriculum design and related classroom practices. The central argument throughout is that the design of the curriculum and the routines of the classroom are completely synergistic.

Curriculum development and teaching innovation toolkit

Changes in curriculum may involve innovation, but in general, change in terms of curriculum involves adapting a new educational method and not necessarily a method with human interaction. When curriculum innovation or change is made in the classroom, it can enhance the social skills of students and focus on unique methods for teaching historical, technological, organizational or political lessons.

innovation can be described as a four-stage process. 1. The initiation of the innovation (the decision-making processes inside and/or outside the educational system by which it is decided that a particular innovation in the curriculum is required.) 2. The development of the proposed new curriculum. 3.

CURRICULUM STRATEGY -

Borders College

- Curriculum-in-use
- The formal curriculum (written or overt) comprises those things in textbooks, and content and concepts in the district curriculum guides. However, those "formal" elements are frequently not taught.
 - The curriculum-in-use is the actual curriculum that is delivered and presented by each teacher.
