Love of country is an exceptional feeling. We all feel blessed for having a land of our own. We celebrate this independence, explode fireworks and so on. There are countless sacrifices of our ancestors behind it. What we all need is to be thankful for having an independent land and value its worth. We all have a patriot in ourselves, just keep it awake.

For Love of Country is a rare forum: a real conversation among some of our most prominent intellectuals about an issue of urgent public importance. At the center of this lively and utterly readable debate book is Martha Nussbaum's passionate argument against patriotism. At a time when our connections and obligations to the rest of the world grow only stronger, we should reject patriotism as a parochial ideal, she says, and instead see ourselves first of all as "citizens of the world."
