God Is Just Not Fair

He is not FAIR--He shows us mercy and forgiveness, even when it's not what we deserve. He is JUST, though; He keeps his promises and does what He says He will do, even when that doesn't seem fair to us.

But if God is just, both men's sin must be paid for. Either you pay (the merit system), or God pays (the grace system). God's grace doesn't seem fair to the self-righteous, but for those who recognize how undeserving they are, it is truly wonderful! In her latest book "God Is Just Not Fair" Jennifer Rothschild takes each of these questions apart and examines them in light of Scripture. And who better to do so than someone who has asked them all herself. Having lost her sight as a teenager, Jennifer has navigated the world blind for her entire adult life.

God is Just Not Fair: Finding Hope When Life Doesn't Make ...

God is "fair" in that He is unbiased, honest, and just. Peter, standing in a Gentile's home and seeing the work of the Holy Spirit, said, "I now realize how true it is that God does not show favoritism but accepts from every nation the one who fears him and does what is right" (Acts 10:34-35). God is eminently fair. He treats no one wrongly. Despite God's loving grace, no one would believe in Him on his own (Romans 3:10-18).

Is God fair? | GotQuestions.org

Far more than being fair, God is gracious (giving us not what we deserve, but what we need) and merciful (not giving us the punishment we do deserve). He is also just (morally consistent or fair) and righteous. Justice is served in salvation because Jesus paid the price for our sins.
