Great leaders think big. Great leaders were often great thinkers. They blazed new trails in the world of ideas, and impacted the lives of many people. I have observed three types of thinking in great leaders: Big Picture Thinking; Strategic Thinking; Reflective Thinking; What do these leaders have in common? These leaders think big.

~~Great Leaders Think Big — Keep Thinking Big~~
Great leaders come from all walks of life. Seldom do they follow some predetermined path to leadership. While a few of them may have been "born leaders," in most cases great leaders weren't even picked to be "Most Likely to Succeed" in their high school yearbooks. Almost all successful leaders overcome obstacles and failures a long the way.

decide. While advice-seeking is often the default path for thinking as a leader, I've learned that great leaders tend to be more deliberate in the kind of advice they seek. I spoke with Joel Gascoigne, founder, and CEO of Buffer, on our podcast recently, and he revealed how he tends to think like a leader. Like many of us, when faced with a tough situation, he solicits advice from others.

~~The value of conflicting advice: How great leaders think ...~~

Great leaders think about opportunities to inspire and lead in ways that grow, not only the organization, but the individual. Simon Sinek said it best in his Ted talk, "leaders know what their purpose is and what their cause is". True leaders know why they got out of bed in the morning and it is not to push the bottom line.
