Briton Rivière, Una and Lion, nineteenth century. " In like a lion, out like a lamb " has always seemed a straightforward enough proverb: when March starts, it ' s still winter, and by the end of the month spring has begun. True, in many climates the weather hasn ' t quite reached the lamb stage by the end of the month—it ' s more like a surly cat, maybe, or one of those awful territorial honking geese.

So, if a month came in bad (roaring like a lion), it should go out good and calm (docile, like a lamb). With March being such a changeable month, in which we can see warm spring-like temperatures or late-season snowstorms, you can understand how this saying might hold true in some instances. We can only hope that if March starts off stormy it will end on a calm note, but the key word is hope.
