disputes among businesses or individuals residing or based in different countries. The main difference between international litigation and domestic litigation is that, in the former, certain issues are more likely to be of significance – such as personal jurisdiction, service of process, evidence from abroad, and enforcement of judgments.

International litigation - Wikipedia

Of course, with a non-exclusive jurisdiction clause, there will always be a risk that a party could end up defending proceedings in an unfavourable (or just inconvenient) jurisdiction. Many commercial parties, such as banks, now use a hybrid of exclusive and non-exclusive jurisdiction clauses to deal with some of the above issues.
