Israel and the United Nations - Wikipedia

A. Ancient Israel defined a nation as a kinship group—such as a large, extended family. This definition was developed out of the ancient Israelites ' visceral experience, for they were born into and grew old surrounded by their extended family, in villages and on land where their ancestors had lived and worked, and where their descendants would do the same.

There is but one human race, despite differences of colour, culture and creed. However, when God deals with men redemptively He sees two groups, the saved and the lost (John 3:36, Rev 22:11). Yet, when God deals with mankind providentially, exercising His moral government in the affairs of His world, He sees three groups: Israel, the Church and the nations (the Gentiles) (1 Cor 10:32).

Israel and the Nations. Psalm 67. C. H. Mackintosh. It would greatly tend to give clearness and definiteness to missionary effort to keep fully before our minds God's original purpose in sending the gospel to the Gentiles, or nations. This we have stated in the most distinct manner in Acts 15. "Simeon has declared," says James, "how God at the first did visit the Gentiles, to take out of them a people for His name."
