In business, there's the jab—building solid customer relationships over time—and there's the right hook—clobbering an opponent with that well-placed product and campaign. Best-selling business writer Vaynerchuk argues that with the new social media, the jab-and-hook pattern is different. With a 150,000-copy first printing.

Just because you jab and jab and jab, doesn't mean you automatically get to land the right hook. Putting out great content, sending baskets of fruit, whatever your jab is, it doesn't entitle you to land the right hook. It just allows you to have the audacity to ask. You have to earn the right to ask people for a sale.
