The three short pieces in Jodi Picoult's "Leaving Home" all deal with loss of one kind or another. The first story is called "Weights and Measures". This one I found to be a very sad story with a strange ending, but as the reader gets to know the characters of Abe and Sarah, the ending makes sense.

Three short pieces: (1) Picoult gives the letter she wrote to her son when he left home for college. I wasn't sure I'd like this, but it is heartwarming - bursting with love, pride and hope. (2) A couple who have lost their young daughter to illness, attempt to cope with their emptiness - relatable and moving.
