The most common factor in such theories is the attempt to explicate the nature of mind and consciousness in terms of their ability to directly or indirectly modify behaviour, but there are versions of materialism that try to tie the mental to the physical without explicitly explaining the mental in terms of its behaviour-modifying role ...

Dualism (Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy)

nature. It was not my greed, my purposiveness, my so-called "animal," so-called "instincts," and so forth that I was recognizing on the other side of that mirror, over there in "nature." Rather, I was seeing there rhe roots of human symmetry, beauty and ugliness, aesthetics, the human being's very aliveness and little bit of wisdom.
