Her most significant works in these areas have been Educating for Intelligent Belief or Unbelief (1993) and Philosophy of Education (1995). Noddings' contribution to education philosophy centers around the ethic of care. Her belief was that a caring teacher-student relationship will result in the teacher designing a differentiated curriculum for each student, and that this curriculum would be based around the students' particular interests and needs.

Philosophy of education - Wikipedia

Philosophy of education, philosophical reflection on the nature, aims, and problems of education. The philosophy of education is Janus-faced, looking both inward to the parent discipline of philosophy and outward to educational practice. (In this respect it is like other areas of "applied" philosophy, such as the philosophy of law, the philosophy of science, and the philosophy of medicine, including bioethics.) This dual focus requires it to work on both sides of the traditional divide ...

An educational philosophy refers to a teacher's vision of the grander purpose of education and its role in society. Educational philosophy questions involve such issues as a teacher's vision of their role as a teacher, their view of how students learn best, and their basic goals for their students. An educational philosophy should guide a teacher's discussions in job interviews, and it should be communicated to students and their parents.

How to Design Your Educational Philosophy

It is derived from the words education, economics and development. Ed - is for education; eco- is for economics; and lementalism - is for development. This philosophy is anchored on how the UNESCO defined and perceived education in general as "education - a key to get rid of poverty."
