The courier system was the first organized delivery system for written information that we know of. But it was not yet used for letters and messages between parties besides pharaoh. In Ancient Persia, during the period of 550 BC to 521 BC, a true postal system was developed in Assyria. It is disputed whether it was Cyrus the Great or his successor Darius I, who was responsible. The postal system of Persia was operated by a series of stations.

Early History of Postal Systems | Salt Lake Mailing and ...

In the course of these 200 years there were two postal systems for London, the General Post and the Penny Post. These systems were run concurrently, but had different offices, staff, accounting and of course, different postal markings. It is such a large section that we have split them into smaller sections on the following pages.
