Here are just a few of the things that the Bible declares to come through faith: We are born into eternal life through faith; We are declared righteous before God by faith; We are forgiven by faith; We are healed by faith; We understand the mysteries of creation by faith; We learn God's Word by ...

Faith - Discover The Book of Revelation

The concepts of faith and revelation, though logically distinct, are related in a variety of ways. All of the great theistic religions, especially the Abrahamic faiths of Judaism, Christianity, and Islam, have traditionally taught that God can be known only through revelation. Because God is conceived by these traditions to be all-powerful and all-knowing, it is impossible for anyone to gain knowledge of God unless God is willing for this to occur.

Faith and Revelation - Oxford Handbooks

Revelation is a product of faith and pertains to the gospel as a doctrine. By believing in revelation, individuals are able to develop intimacy with God. Usually, revelation as a product of faith breaks the mystery that surrounds God. Reason may prompt individuals to lose the belief in God, but faith is a way above human reasoning.

Revelation - Church of Jesus Christ

1 This is the revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave Him to show His servants what must soon come to pass. He made it known by sending His angel to His servant John, 2 who testifies to everything he saw. This is the word of God and the testimony of Jesus Christ.

Revelation: The Book of Revelation (The Apocalypse of John)

When the testimony upon which a devotee relies is thought to be that of God, the appropriate response to this divine revelation is that of faith. Even within religions, such as Buddhism, which have no divine revelation, there is an attitude equivalent to faith, which is considered a necessary condition of spiritual progress.

Revelation and Faith | SpringerLink

Revelation is how God, the Creator of all things, makes himself known to us—his creatures. Without God speaking to us—in nature and in the Bible—we would have no way of knowing that he exists, who he is, what he has done to save us in Jesus Christ, or how we are to live and worship him.
