Subliminal The New Unconscious And

The result of this explosion of research is a new science of the unconscious, and a sea change in our understanding of how the mind affects the way we live. These cutting-edge discoveries have revealed that the way we experience life—our perception, behavior, memory, and social judgment—is largely driven by the mind's subliminal processes and not by the conscious ones, as we have long believed.

What is the difference between subconscious and subliminal ...

The so-called new unconscious is aggressively antipsychoanalytic.<sup>1</sup> A very brief definition catches the most important elements: "The cognitive unconscious includes all the mental processes that are not experienced by a person but that give rise to a person's thoughts, choices, emotions, and behavior."<sup>2</sup> The key here—and the key to my chapter—is these mental processes are "not experienced" by us—and because they are not,
