So many questions, and yet one answer — Jerry Yeagley. He came to Indiana. He had a vision. He looked for the pieces. He put the puzzle together. In his 10th season at the helm, the Hoosiers finally won the title. They were the unquestioned No. 1 team in the nation. “ Certainly the first championship got the monkey off our back, ” Yeagley

Down to the present, Hoosiers have remained wary of government power and have taken care to guard their tax dollars and their personal independence. Yet the people of Indiana have always accommodated change, exchanging log cabins and spinning wheels for railroads, cities, and factories in the nineteenth century, automobiles, suburbs, and foreign investment in the twentieth.
